Section B: Short Answer Questions (12 × 2 = 24 marks)

Section B: Short Answer Questions (12 × 2 = 24 marks)

☐ Story-Based Questions (2 × 2 Marks = 4 Marks)

Q1. How does Derry enter Mr Lamb’s garden and how does Mr Lamb react? Answer:

Derry enters Mr Lamb’s garden by climbing over the wall, assuming it’s empty. Mr Lamb, instead of being angry, welcomes him warmly and tells him the gate is always open. He shows no prejudice and invites Derry to stay and talk. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for describing Derry’s entry
- 1 mark for Mr Lamb’s reaction

Q2. What incident made Derry feel people were cruel towards him? Answer: Derry recalls a woman at a bus stop who whispered, “That’s a face only a mother could love.” This remark deeply hurt him and reinforced his belief that people judge him by his appearance and are afraid or repulsed by him. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for describing the incident
- 1 mark for explaining its emotional impact

☐ Moral-Based Questions (2 × 2 Marks = 4 Marks)

Q3. What moral lesson does Mr Lamb’s story about the fearful man convey? Answer:

Mr Lamb’s story teaches that isolating oneself out of fear doesn’t prevent misfortune. The man who locked himself away still died unexpectedly. The moral is to live life fully, face risks, and not let fear control one’s existence. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for stating the lesson
- 1 mark for linking it to the story

Q4. What does Mr Lamb mean when he says, “Hatred does more harm than acid”?

Answer: Mr Lamb implies that internal bitterness and hatred damage a person more than physical injuries. While acid scarred Derry's face, hatred can corrode one's spirit and prevent healing or growth. He urges Derry to let go of resentment. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for interpreting the quote
- 1 mark for explaining its moral significance

□ Character-Based Questions (2 × 2 Marks = 4 Marks)

Q5. Describe Mr Lamb's attitude towards physical disability. Answer: Mr Lamb, who lost a leg in war, accepts his disability without bitterness. He doesn't let it define him and remains cheerful, welcoming, and philosophical. He believes in living fully and not letting physical limitations hinder one's spirit. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for describing his attitude
- 1 mark for supporting with example

Q6. How does Derry's character evolve during his interaction with Mr Lamb? Answer: Initially bitter and withdrawn, Derry gradually opens up to Mr Lamb's warmth and wisdom. He begins to see beyond his scars and expresses a desire to return. His transformation reflects growing self-awareness and hope. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for describing initial state
- 1 mark for explaining the change

□ Theme-Based Questions (2 × 2 Marks = 4 Marks)

Q7. What theme does the play explore through the characters of Derry and Mr Lamb? Answer: The play explores themes of isolation, acceptance, and inner beauty. It contrasts society's superficial judgments with the deeper understanding between two physically challenged individuals who bond over shared experiences and emotional honesty. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for identifying the theme
- 1 mark for linking it to characters

Q8. How does the play challenge society's perception of physical appearance? Answer: The play critiques society's tendency to judge people by looks. Derry's scarred face leads to rejection, while Mr Lamb's tin leg draws mockery. Yet both characters show that true worth lies in thoughts, feelings, and actions—not appearance. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for stating the critique
- 1 mark for supporting with examples

□ Competency-Based Questions (2 × 2 Marks = 4 Marks)

Q9. Why does Mr Lamb compare weeds and flowers in his garden? Answer: Mr Lamb uses the comparison to teach Derry that labels are meaningless. Just as weeds and flowers are both living plants, people too should not be judged by appearance. It's a metaphor for equality and acceptance. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for explaining the comparison
- 1 mark for interpreting its meaning

Q10. How does Mr Lamb's open-door policy reflect his worldview? Answer: Mr Lamb keeps his garden gate open to all, symbolizing his inclusive and non-judgmental nature. He believes everyone is welcome and worthy of friendship, regardless of age, appearance, or background. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for describing the policy

- 1 mark for linking it to his worldview

□ Situation-Based Questions (2 × 2 Marks = 4 Marks)

Q11. Why does Derry decide to return to Mr Lamb's garden despite his mother's warning? Answer: Derry feels a deep connection with Mr Lamb, who treats him with respect and kindness. He wants to help with the crab apples and continue their conversation. His return shows courage and a desire to break free from isolation. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for stating the reason
- 1 mark for explaining its significance

Q12. What is the significance of the ending where Derry finds Mr Lamb fallen? Answer: The ending is poignant and symbolic. Derry's return shows his emotional growth, but Mr Lamb's fall adds tragedy. It emphasizes the fragility of life and the importance of human connection, even if brief. Marking Scheme:

- 1 mark for describing the event

Section C: Long Answer Questions (4 × 5 = 20 marks)

Character-Based Question

Q: Describe the character of Mr Lamb and his role in transforming Derry's outlook.

Answer: Mr Lamb is an elderly man with a tin leg who lives alone in a house with an open garden. Despite his physical disability, he is cheerful, philosophical, and deeply empathetic. He welcomes everyone and finds beauty in all aspects of life.

When Derry, a boy with a burnt face, enters his garden, Mr Lamb treats him with warmth and respect. He listens patiently and challenges Derry's negative beliefs. Through stories, metaphors, and gentle wisdom, Mr Lamb helps Derry see beyond his scars and recognize his potential. He encourages Derry to embrace life and not be defined by others' opinions.

Mr Lamb's character is a symbol of resilience and acceptance. His interaction with Derry becomes a turning point, showing how compassion and perspective can heal emotional wounds and inspire change.

Marking Scheme (5 marks):

- 1 mark: Introduction of character
- 2 marks: Description with textual support
- 1 mark: Role in transformation
- 1 mark: Coherent conclusion

2. Theme-Based Question

Q: Discuss the theme of isolation and acceptance in the play On the Face of It.

Answer: The play explores the emotional isolation faced by people with physical disabilities and the human need for acceptance. Both Mr Lamb and Derry are physically impaired and socially alienated, yet they respond to their situations differently.

Derry isolates himself due to fear of rejection and ridicule. He believes people judge him solely by his appearance. Mr Lamb, on the other hand, embraces life and refuses to let his disability define him. He keeps his garden gate open and welcomes everyone, showing that acceptance begins from within.

Through their interaction, the play conveys that true acceptance comes from self-worth and empathy. It challenges societal prejudices and encourages readers to look beyond appearances and connect with others meaningfully.

Marking Scheme (5 marks):

- 1 mark: Introduction of theme
- 2 marks: Textual examples and analysis
- 1 mark: Interpretation and insight
- 1 mark: Coherent conclusion

3. Competency-Based Question

Q: How does Mr Lamb use storytelling and observation to guide Derry's thinking?

Answer: Mr Lamb uses storytelling and observation as tools to gently challenge Derry's negative beliefs. He shares a story about a man who locked himself away out of fear, only to be killed by a falling picture—highlighting the futility of hiding from life.

He also draws Derry's attention to the garden, comparing weeds and flowers to people, showing that labels are meaningless. Mr Lamb's observations are philosophical and inclusive, encouraging Derry to see beauty in diversity and life in all forms.

Through these methods, Mr Lamb helps Derry reflect, question, and eventually change his perspective. His approach is non-confrontational yet deeply impactful, showing how wisdom and empathy can guide personal growth.

Marking Scheme (5 marks):

- 1 mark: Identification of technique
- 2 marks: Supporting examples from the text
- 1 mark: Impact on Derry
- 1 mark: Conclusion with insight

4. Dialogue-Based Question

Q: How does the dialogue between Mr Lamb and Derry reveal their contrasting worldviews?

Answer: The dialogue between Mr Lamb and Derry is central to the play's emotional depth. It reveals their contrasting attitudes toward life and disability. Derry is defensive, bitter, and withdrawn, while Mr Lamb is open, optimistic, and accepting.

Derry's lines reflect his pain and fear of rejection. He believes people stare at him and judge him for his burnt face. Mr Lamb counters this with calm, reflective responses, encouraging Derry to look beyond appearances and embrace life's possibilities.

Their conversation evolves from conflict to connection. Through dialogue, the play shows how meaningful communication can bridge emotional gaps and foster understanding between individuals with different experiences.

Marking Scheme (5 marks):

- 1 mark: Introduction of contrast
- 2 marks: Dialogue examples and analysis
- 1 mark: Interpretation of change
- 1 mark: Coherent conclusion

5. Speech-Based Question

Q: Imagine you are Derry. Write a speech on “Overcoming Fear and Finding Courage.”

Answer: Good morning everyone. I’m Derry, and I want to talk about something I’ve lived with—fear. Fear of being judged, stared at, and rejected because of how I look. For a long time, I believed I was different, and that difference made me hide.

But then I met Mr Lamb. He didn’t look away. He listened. He told me stories and showed me that life is more than appearances. He taught me that courage isn’t about being perfect—it’s about showing up, even when you’re scared.

So today, I choose courage. I choose to live, to help, to be seen. And I hope you do too. Because fear only wins when we stop trying. Thank you.

Marking Scheme (5 marks):

- 1 mark: Clear opening and relevance of topic
- 2 marks: Use of textual references and examples
- 1 mark: Personal insight or reflection
- 1 mark: Effective conclusion

6. Article-Based Question

Q: Write an article on “The Importance of Empathy in Healing Emotional Wounds” using On the Face of It as reference.

Answer: Empathy is the bridge that connects hearts and heals invisible wounds. In Susan Hill’s On the Face of It, empathy transforms the life of Derry, a boy scarred by acid and emotional rejection. His encounter with Mr Lamb, an elderly man with a tin leg, becomes a turning point.

Mr Lamb doesn’t pity Derry. He listens, observes, and gently guides him to see life differently. His stories and open-hearted acceptance help Derry confront his fears and rediscover hope. The play shows that empathy isn’t about fixing someone—it’s about being present and understanding without judgment.

In a world quick to judge by appearances, On the Face of It reminds us that empathy can restore dignity, inspire courage, and change lives.

Marking Scheme (5 marks):

- 1 mark: Introduction of concept
- 2 marks: Examples from the play
- 1 mark: Analysis of impact
- 1 mark: Conclusion with relevance
